

USING STAGING AS A MARKETING TOOL

(Offered to Real Estate Agents ONLY)

This is a class that really concentrates and focuses on how agents can work with their all of their sellers to achieve a ‘model home” look.

For over 6 years, Lyn has been successfully teaching agents in a classroom setting how they can instruct their sellers to make the needed changes to their homes when going on the market. It is geared to show modest and inexpensive updating techniques that the homeowner can implement, and includes all areas of the home, including curb appeal.

The 3 hour class offered to real estate agents is currently accredited in Virginia and Delaware for 3 continuing education credits.
